NEWS FROM ST. PAUL'S PRESCHOOL

As the end of our school year approaches, children are busy with crafts and learning about caterpillars, butterflies, flowers and other critters. Many classes are planning a field trip to the strawberry patch; the children love picking strawberries! This field trip is also a favorite with the teachers too. The 4- and 5-year-olds will also have bike day where they learn to be safe riding their bicycles.

Our 3-, 4-, and 5-year-old classes are excitedly preparing for the End of Year Celebration when they will entertain family and friends with fun songs. We would love for you to join us on May 21 at 11:30 a.m. to celebrate the many successes of our school year.

We are extremely excited that our Summer Camp weeks are full. The teachers are looking forward to 2 weeks of fun in the sun as we transform the classes into different adventures for the children.

I hope you all have a warm, fun-filled May.

ST. PAUL'S COOKBOOK

The Fellowship Committee will be developing a cookbook to commemorate St. Paul's 50th Anniversary. We will want to hear from old-timers, newcomers and those in between. Please begin thinking about food experiences you've had at St. Paul's (or brought to St. Paul's from other church events), and the small stories that go with them that connect them to St. Paul's past, present and future. More information and requests for recipes will follow in the next few weeks, but if you have questions or would like help to with the cookbook, please call Susan Hawkins, 467-1512, nanooh@nc.rr.com.

WARDEN'S CORNER ST. PAUL'S AND THE LAST FIVE POUNDS

For those of you who are women you Warden's Corner can probably relate to trying to lose those last few pounds of unwanted weight, especially after having a baby. The effort to lose that last five seems exponentially difficult compared to the rest of the weight you have already lost. As you focus on the last five pounds, it is easy to lose the perspective on what you have already lost and you often forget how much you have achieved. I think this applies to so many aspects in our lives.

I recently attended the Warden's Retreat held by the Diocese of North Carolina. Junior and Senior Wardens attended from both large and small congregations. After listening to the many issues that other congregations are facing, St. Paul's issues seemed very small. In fact, it felt like St. Paul's was participating in the "Biggest Loser" weight loss contest and we showed up wanting only to lose five pounds.

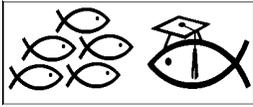

At one point, I sat at a table-top discussion with some smaller parishes. As we went around the table, the first gentleman spoke about his surrounding community and church shrinking. The average parishioners' age was sixty and the church did not have any children. There were seven households that pledged at his church and there were not enough funds to continue to pay their priest. When he was through speaking the next woman spoke of her church's situation. Her church had to let their priest go due to a betrayal of trust. The church was trying to heal and at the same time find a new priest. When it came time for me to speak, I didn't know what to say. Clearly these churches were dealing with very serious issues, and by the grace of God, St. Paul's is not dealing with anything like this.

As I drove home, I reflected on all of St. Paul's blessings. We have a community and church that are growing. Our sanctuary and education hall are full of children on Sundays. We have a wonderful staff and clergy. It is an honor to work closely with them.

As we continue to grow and face issues, let us not forget how far we have come. Only fifty years ago, we were just a dream in the minds of St. Paul's parishioners. Let us rejoice with where we are. Let us continue to strive and live into God's calling for us without becoming overly focused on the last five pounds.

In Christ,

Mary Wood, Junior Warden

ST. PAUL'S 50TH ANNIVERSARY
GUEST SPEAKERS
Continues Sunday,
May 18, 2008

The Rt. Rev. Robert Johnson, Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of NC from 1995 to 2000, will preach at the 9:00 a.m. and 11:15 a.m. services. Bishop Johnson is the fourth and last speaker visiting St. Paul's before the anniversary celebration.

Bishop Johnson's tenure covered The Rev. Charles Hocking's last two years at St. Paul's, the Interim Period when The Rev. James Hubbard was here, and The Rev. George Adamik's being called as Rector in 1999. He visited us for Confirmations and other special occasions. Between the services, he will lead an informal sharing of his reflections about St. Paul's.

Visual displays of our evolving history will again line the back of the nave, so plan to visit this area. New pictures and information will bring us up to the present time.

A special way you can be a part of St. Paul's history:

There is still time for you to become a part of St. Paul's recorded history by sharing a special memory. It could be your first visit to the parish, someone who touched your heart with a kind word, a worship service that changed your life, a musical moment that brought a tear to your eye, funny stories, anecdotes, or your work on a project that brought us to where we are today. Entries may be posted on our website and may be edited.

Send your remembrances to:

If you do not have e-mail, you may send your typed or hand-written information to the church office marked: "Our Memories." Be sure to sign your name. Write away!

Thoughts on Worship:

Soren Kierkegaard (1813-1855), a great theologian, was particularly outspoken on the subject of worship. He was critical of many churches whose worship had become "user friendly." To illustrate, he described Christian worship using two analogies from drama.

In the first analogy, God is the prompter, the liturgical leaders (musicians, readers of the scriptures, preachers and celebrants) are the actors and the congregation is the audience. This situation occurs when people believe that specially trained leaders are better equipped to be the performers. This congregation believes it is best if they just watch as onlookers. Kierkegaard taught that this understanding of worship was totally wrong.

In the second analogy, he proposes the liturgical leaders are the prompters. The congregation and liturgical leaders together are the actors in the drama of worship and God alone is the audience for the drama.

These analogies give us something to think about: In my life am I just being an audience or prompter?

Or, am I active and participating in worship each day – with humility, service, praise, singing, giving and by telling others that God loves them?

More important than making music and having fun, the music programs at St. Paul's serve to provide a way for people to be active in worship. (And we do have fun too!)

So during this season of transition in the music ministry, consider if now is time for you to explore becoming a part of a music program at St. Paul's.

A SPLASHING Success! The children's cantata presentation of Oh, Jonah! last month was amazing, enjoyable and worshipful. What a wonderful expression of God's love and grace for us as told through the experience of Jonah, the sailors, a whale and the Ninevites. In addition to the performance at St. Paul's, the children's choirs gave presentations to the residents at Cary Rehabilitation and Chatham Creek Home. I would like to offer thanks and appreciation to the children and to everyone who helped put this program together. I would also like to express a special thank you to the parents who support the music programs and make the effort to bring their children. The enrichment that the children receive through their participation in these programs will have a blessing and impact throughout their lives.

Music Season Finale and Thank You

It's May, and several of our seasonal choirs and ensembles have finished their 2007-2008 season. The Epiphany Choir, Junior Choir, Proclamation Bells and Bells of St. Paul's, are taking a well deserved break for summer.

Youth Choir and Canterbury Bells will continue to rehearse through May 6th and then begin their break after singing in church at the 9:00 a.m. service on May 11.

So what's the best thing to do after a year of commitment, hours of rehearsal and numerous performances? Celebrate!

I would like to take this opportunity to express my appreciation and gratitude to everyone who leads or participates in a music program. I have been delighted by so many new friends and grown to love each of you. I particularly appreciate the service that so many of you contribute to make things run smoothly during this time of transition in the music ministry. I would like to specifically mention the contributions of Gaylene Henry and Olivia Ittoop who help in the leadership of the music ministry. Also, there are the many folks who sing, play instruments, and assist with snacks, transportation, music and library filing, accompanying, communication, cleanup, crowd management, devotions, proofing, office support, and making costumes and props. Thank you!

Serve the Lord with gladness; Come before Him with joyful singing. Psalm 100:2

CHRISTIAN SOCIAL MINISTRIES (CSM)

Spring Greetings! The Christian Social Ministries committee thanks all who have helped St. Paul's to reach out by participating in recent projects. So many members contributed food to the Urban Ministries' collection and donated clothing for migrant farmworkers on Hermano Day. So many members made donations to Heifer International, via weekly offerings (from our children as well!) and the special Easter Sunday collection. So many volunteers cooked meals for - and spent time with, families during the Wake Interfaith Hospitality Network's Homeless Ministry week. So many members baked cookies and helped to purchase dough for the Kairos spring weekend. So many of our children created beautiful cards to send messages of hope to the female residents taking part in the prison ministry program.

So many wonderful visitors attended the recent Ministry Fair! We hope that you'll attend our next meeting (Sunday, June 1st, 10:00 a.m. - 11:00 a.m. or be in touch to learn more about volunteering or CSM projects/ Outreach in general. Please visit the St. Paul's website, under "Outreach" - it's a fantastic resource, chock full of information! www.stpaulscary.org

The generosity of our church community is astounding. By reaching out in these and many other ways together, we truly make a real difference in the lives of so many. Thank you.

Would you and/or your family like to make an impact on global starvation? If so, then please save the date of Saturday, May 17, and come to St. Paul's to be part of a huge effort to package 100,000 meals. St. Paul's parishioners will be teaming up with three local Rotary Clubs and the Raleigh Sertoma Club. St. Paul's will be responsible for packing meals between 8:00 a.m. – 10:00 a.m. and 10:00 a.m. – 12:00 noon. We need to provide approximately 40 people per shift and ask that you arrive approximately 15 minutes prior to your shift. The 12:00 noon – 2:00 p.m. and 2:00 p.m. – 4:00 p.m. shifts will be filled by the attending clubs. There will also be a clean-up shift from 4:00 p.m. – 5:00 p.m.. All people from age five and up are welcome to participate in this important humanitarian event. Not only are we combining physical resources to package 100,000 meals, but we will also be purchasing all the food materials used in the 100,000 meals. As a result, donations are encouraged and will be accepted at the event. Sign up sheets will be available in the narthex on Sundays, May 4 and May 11. Please consider this opportunity to make an impact on global starvation. If you have any questions, please contact Glenda Swann at 919-362-9950 or swannet@pipeline.com.
